

Rowdown Primary School Music Policy 2019

Aims and objectives:

Music is a universal language that embodies one of the highest forms of creativity. We provide opportunities for all children to create, play, perform and enjoy music, to develop the skills to appreciate a wide variety of musical forms, and to begin to make judgements about the quality of music.

The aim of music teaching is to enable all children to:

- Perform, listen to, review and evaluate music across a range of historical periods, genres, styles and traditions, including the works of the great composers and musicians
- Learn to sing and use their voices
- Have the opportunity to learn to play a musical instrument
- To use technology appropriately
- To create and compose music on their own and with others
- Understand and explore how music is created

Teaching and learning style:

We aim to make music an enjoyable learning experience and encourage children to participate in a variety of musical activities. We provide opportunities for all children to sing and to listen to and appreciate different styles and genres of music. We teach them the skills of recognising and commenting on pulse, pitch, rhythm, timbre, dynamics and texture in music. We provide opportunities for children to work with others to make music and show how individuals compose and organise music.

We also begin to teach them some of the features of musical notation and to develop an understanding of the history of music.

Additional music teaching:

Children are offered the opportunity to learn to play an instrument. Guitar and Ukulele are taught at lunch time clubs and children are encouraged to perform in assemblies.

Music curriculum planning:

Music is often taught and used within other areas of the curriculum, and to support and enhance the work done within the topics planned. A wide range of resources are available to support music teaching. We give pupils the opportunity to appreciate a wide range of high-quality live and recorded music.

Assessment:

The music subject leader is responsible for monitoring and reviewing planning. The subject leader is also responsible for compiling a portfolio which will give all members of staff an exemplar of standards to be met in each year group.

Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) In Rowdown Primary School. We teach music in Reception classes as an integral part of the topic work covered during the year. In the Early Years Foundation Stage, music contributes to a child's development in the area of expressive arts and design.

Inclusion:

Teaching music to children with special educational needs (SEND).

At our school we teach music to all children, whatever their ability. Music forms part of the school curriculum policy to provide a broad, rich, deep and balanced education to all children.

Assessment against the National Curriculum and the standards:

We have identified the expected standards in each year groups, this allows us to consider each child's attainment and progress against agreed expectations. When progress falls significantly outside the expected range, the child may have SEN. We look at a range of factors, including classroom organisation, teaching materials, teaching style, and differentiation, so that we can take some additional or different action to enable the child to learn more effectively. This ensures that our teaching is matched to the child's needs.

Assessment and recording: Teachers assess children's work in music by making informal judgements as they observe them during lessons. Additional evidence may be gained during school performances or other relevant events, and may be presented in the form of recordings or photographs. The attainment of each child is indicated termly using our record keeping resource.

Resources:

There are a wide range of resources available for the use of all staff in the school. We keep these resources in the music room. They are regularly checked for safety and relevance and new resources may be purchased as needed. Risk assessments may be carried out according to the activity planned.

Monitoring and review: The music subject leader is responsible for keeping an overview of the standard of children's work and for the quality of teaching. The work of the subject leader also involves: supporting colleagues, being informed about current developments and providing a strategic lead and direction for the subject in the school. The music subject leader is responsible for making a contribution to the school's Evaluation and Improvement systems. Indicating current strengths and development areas and identifying steps for success.
