

THE JOURNEY OF A STRANGE NOISE

Exhausted and anxious, a boy named Ethen got disturbed by an alarming, faint sound heading from a disserted forest. At first, he ignored it and tried going to bed, but he couldn't handle the irritating noise. So, he snuck towards his window and gazed over the houses, he new there was some ancient secrets about that place, but nobody dared to step foot. He fought if he discovered something lurking in that forest he would become famous, so he thought about what he could need on this exciting but deadly journey, something in his mind told him he needed to bring a rope, torch, a lot of food, hat, scissors just in case and most importantly he needed bravery.

Suddenly, he thought about how much trouble he would be in for escaping, how worried his family would feel? their hearts would be a lost puzzle piece trying to find its home. Ethen tried to face his fears but he couldn't do that in bed so he left a note saying:

" Dear mum and Dad, don't worry about me, I will be fine, I am on the other side of the street where you are probably wont find me, if you don't hear from me it either means I won't be coming back but I'm safe, love from Ethen"

Ethan tiptoed down the creaky stairs, he left the note by the door slowly opened the door and kisses the house good bye.

He ran as quick as lightening, but strangely as he left his house the sound was nowhere to be heard, so he ran back home, and the moment he entered his luxurious room the noise got louder and louder until he opened his window, it was so quiet he could even hear a pin drop.

A strange feeling rumbled in his heart, that made him feel the noise was coming for him. " well, maybe the closer I get, the better chance I could hear whatever is going through my mind" mumbled Ethen. He finally arrived at the forest again and few minutes of searching he found an abandoned house. As he touched that building the mysterious noise started again. His soul jumped in fear, all that was going through his mind was shall I go in shall I not? His bravery told him to go in. the wind slid the door open....

Back home his mum saw the letter and didn't realize there is a forest, apparently, he was the only person who could see it, his family didn't worry because they believe in him.....

Cobwebs after cobwebs he followed the sound, the closer he got the more it sounded like a child, Ethen opened the wardrobe and screamed to death. He couldn't believe what he saw, all this time it was a young boy certainly needing help, Ethen asked him a whole bunch of questions but it seems like the boy didn't speak English and why was he calling me?
