

Unlock the Unknown

Once there was a bunny named Rose. She was a kind and beautiful princess of an extraordinary castle.

She had a special whistle that called all the animals of her kingdom to her. One day on the bunny news, she heard there was a magical land and to get there they had to find 1 gold gem and a key to get in.

Straight away she blew her whistle and all the animals came to her. Then they all packed, planned and set off to find this magic land.

Once they were about a mile away in a bush they saw something shiny, it was a gem! They picked it up, but then a monster came out of nowhere and chased them, they had to run very fast and luckily escaped.

A little while later they saw a golden key laying in front of them. They had found both the key and the gem now.

Then out of nowhere they saw a statue, it had a key hole and a gem shaped socket.

This must be the gateway to the magical land, they thought.

Rose inserted the key and placed the gem in to the statue. Suddenly a doorway opened up, they climbed in.

The Land was wonderful, there were blue skies, green fields and colourful flowers and beautiful flowing rivers.

It had everything and anything that they desired, so they decided to stay there! They loved living there.

One day when they were just munching on some green grass, and wondering around this new land, they came across a child! They asked him, “What you are doing in this magic land?” The child replied that he was lost and did not know how he got there and started to cry.

The child was hungry and since this was a magic land, out of thin air food appeared.

They ate and then they played some games together, which made him feel much better.

The bunny wanted to make sure that the child found its way back home safely. Suddenly a magic door appeared and they heard a voice, “Pass through the door and go anywhere you wish". This certainly was a magic kingdom. The bunny helped the child to the door and opened it. On the other side, the child saw its home. He started to run and before he knew it he was in the arms of his mother.

The door closed and disappeared as suddenly as it had appeared.

Bunny was very happy that she helped someone in need. But she was now sleepy and she fell into a deep sleep in the lush green meadow of grass and dreamt of mountains of carrots and lettuce, wondering what adventures she and her friends will have tomorrow.

By Dhaara J

Nichols Class