

The Abandoned Bikes

One day, a boy called Alex and his sister Lacey got two new bikes. That morning they got their bikes and rode them to a café. Lacey's bike was red and Alex's bike was blue with white polka dots. They both had a bell and streamers, with no stabilisers because they are 11-year-old twins.

They went into the café to buy some food and drink. They got a sandwich, chocolate cake and some milk. They used some of their pocket money to buy it. Meanwhile, someone mysterious decided to take their bikes and put them far away in the woods...

When Alex and Lacey came out from the café, they saw their bikes were gone! They were feeling blue because their bikes were gone, and they had only got them that morning. They got them as presents as it was their birthday. They knew that their bikes would be together because they always chained their bikes so if one gets lost the other one would be there too.

Alex and Lacey decided to go to the swimming pool to search for their bikes. They saw a float that looked like a bike, but they soon realised it wasn't their bikes and decided to search the grocery store. They went inside and they saw two bikes that looked like theirs! There were two children there and sadly the bikes belonged to them. Alex and Lacey felt disappointed.

Next, Alex and Lacey decided to go to the toy shop to search. Alex saw a red Lamborghini that he really wanted so he bought it. Lacey didn't see anything she wanted. As their bikes were not at the toy shop, they thought about where to go next and decided to try the ice cream parlour. They bought an ice cream when they got there. Next, they asked the cashier if he had seen a red bike with streamers and a blue bike with white polka dots. Sadly, he hadn't seen the bikes and they weren't anywhere inside.

Outside, they saw a stranger carrying their bikes deep into the woods. They went over and shouted in their loudest voices "PUT THOSE BIKES DOWN NOW"! The stranger dropped Lacey's bike and so she jumped on it and told Alex to sit in the basket behind her. They rode Lacey's bike over to the man and Alex pulled and pulled to try and get his bike. They did it!! They rode their bikes home and told their mum and dad all the crazy things that had happened.
